

Your Deck, Your Way

Gardening or grilling? Whatever your summer passion, BHG design pro Joe Boehm knows how to create a sweet spot.

Keep fresh herbs within reach in improvised planters, such as this salvaged galvanized wine rack, bottom.

Grilling Spot

The big idea: An outdoor cooking station next to the grill lets the grill master enjoy conversation on the deck instead of nonstop traipsing to the kitchen. Adjustable metal pantry shelves, available from many retailers, provide a staging area for food and drinks.

Little extras: Locker storage bins hold barbecue tools and dish towels—and serve as handy totes when dinner is done. “Just load the bins with dirty dishes and carry them inside,” Joe says. Finish off the cooking zone with a cushiony, no-slip rubber chef’s mat. FIND IT Locker Bins—pbteen.com; $29

Campus Quilt to anyone!!
If you have old shirts that you can't wear but can't bear to throw out you NEED to have this done!"
